

Occupational Health Nurse

Cognate Health Ltd. is a premier nationwide provider of Occupational Health and Wellness Solutions. Our Network extends throughout Ireland and we provide Occupational Health Services to clients across a broad range of sectors. We are recruiting in partnership with client companies for Occupational Health Nurses.

Main duties:

- Delivery of a range of high-quality occupational health services to the client company
- Carry out health surveillance medicals and assessments dependent on risk assessments
- Manage all work-related accidents/ incidents
- Carry out pre-employment assessments
- Provide case management of short, medium, and long-term absenteeism
- Return to work management
- Manage and administer all vaccination programmes.
- Review OHP reports as needed
- Provide ergonomic assessments & training in line with best practice and statutory requirements
- Ensure the implementation of all occupational health policies
- Update existing procedures and devise new procedures and protocol documents as required.
- Initiate, develop and implement appropriate health promotion programmes
- Maintain all occupational health records in a confidential manner
- Keep up to date with new developments in occupational health and legislative changes.
- To liaise and work with other Cognate Health Ltd. team members on occupational health issues.

Education/Experience:

The candidate will:

Hold a General Nurse qualification and registration

Have a minimum of 4 years post registration experience, two of which have been in Occupational Health

Hold a recognised qualification in Occupational Health

Have excellent Clinical skills

Have excellent communication skills